

Productivity Powerhouse: What Keeps Employees Engaged at Work

Good news business leaders:
Employees want to be in control of their own experiences. It can actually make them – and your organization – more productive. So how can you empower them?

We asked full-time employees about their productivity, including what engages them at work.

This is what they said.

71% want access to self-service tools.

If employees had access to an HR chatbot, they'd use it to:

- 54% Learn about benefits
- 53% Get PTO information
- 35% Ask about policies
- 27% Guidance for onboarding
- 25% Ask about goals

66% think remote work options should be on the table.

Most employees think their productivity and engagement levels aren't negatively affected by remote work.

	More	Same	Less
Productivity	43%	27%	30%
Engagement	34%	31%	35%

26% say their biggest stressor is their workload.

This is what keeps them engaged at work:

- 54% Learning opportunities
- 53% Team meetings
- 35% Performance management
- 27% Mentorships
- 25% Goal alignment

71% say employee experience impacts customer experience.

The most important part of employee experience is:

- 54% Development
- 53% Payroll
- 35% Benefits
- 27% Collaboration
- 25% Recruitment

Source: isolved's 2023 - 2024 Voice of the Workforce Report

Increase productivity by providing better employee experiences. Discover how isolved can help.

Request a Demo